Plaid Duvet Cover Set – An Overview On The Boys Teen Quiksilver Plaid Gray Blue Duvet Cover Set

When I celebrated my birthday the other month, I received lots of birthday presents from friends, colleagues, business associates, and of course my family. Every gift I opened surprised me and made me utter an awe of surprise and amazement but one of the most awfully surprising gifts I received was from my mom and it was a plaid duvet cover set.

Why did my mom's gift strike me in the first place? It is because the gift she gave was the one I have been looking on my computer's monitor – the Boys Teen Quiksilver Plaid Gray Blue Duvet Cover Set.

Maybe a couple of weeks before my birthday, I was planning to give my bed a treat. I usually spent my leisure hours surfing the internet looking for items that will give myself a treat and one treat is to look for a plaid duvet cover set for my bed.

After some time looking at the models of this particular brand name for a duvet cover, I would then go to other sites and look for other designs. However, after getting myself bored with the items I see from these sites, I would find my fingers clicking my way back to skateboardbedding.com. Soon, I would be found staring at this type of cover again and again.

Those times of going back to the same site and keep myself busy staring at the Boys Teen Quiksilver Plaid Gray Blue Duvet Cover Set, I was actually finalizing my decision: should I buy the set or not?

The details are simple yet attractive. Here they are:

This Quiksilver brand type of duvet cover comes with a standard flanged pillow sham featuring the classic plaid motif. Motifs come in sky blue, gray, charcoal, black and white and are accented by the Quiksilver logo at the back.

This cover can be reversed and features random designs like brushstrokes of mist, sky on a white background, with Quiksilver logo in charcoal. The cover and the shams are built in a way to give you easy-care procedures as the fabric is made from polyester. With a price of 99 dollars, I can really give my bed the best treat it can ever have.

My birthday came so fast and I have found myself busy with all the preparations my family is intending to have on my birthday. I really busied myself without realizing the treat I need to give to myself particularly to my bed.

But when I opened my mom's gift, I smiled and hug my mom without asking her. I knew it that she must have caught me staring at the Boys Teen Quiksilver Plaid Gray Blue Duvet Cover Set on my computer.
